FAIRMONT SPA

FAIRMONT GRAND DEL MAR

SOMETIMES,
IT TAKES A LIFETIME
TO ACHIEVE SERENITY.
SOMETIMES,
A MERE AFTERNOON.

Occasionally, our life's journey demands that we stop for a moment. To relax, reconnect and rejuvenate. To revel in the natural abundance of our surroundings. Such moments were made for Fairmont Spa and Wellness at Fairmont Grand Del Mar. Immerse yourself in the breathtaking Los Peñasquitos Canyon Preserve, and allow the profusion of flora and fauna to wash over your senses. Explore the wild herbs, mineral-rich clays and plethora of local elements used in our restorative spa treatments. Immerse yourself in the art of wellbeing.

A COASTAL CANYON DESTINATION FOR WELLBEING

There's an ancient rhythm that hums through Los Peñasquitos Canyon Preserve, a sweeping landscape formed over 150 million years ago when volcanic ash and clays were first deposited along the continental edge, creating the gently sloped terraces that now stretch before us. At Fairmont Spa and Wellness, we have a deep connection to this unique coastal canyon and its rich diversity of life. Our health and beauty rituals incorporate indigenous botanicals once prized by the native Kumeyaay people with cutting-edge science to restore balance between mind and body, the self and nature.

BETWEEN TWO WORLDS

Rooted in the healing traditions of the past and the regenerative science of the present, the award-winning menu of services at Fairmont Spa and Wellness is designed to calm, balance, and naturally restore health and beauty from the inside out.

Trained in the art and science of wellness, Fairmont Spa and Wellness's ASTECC-certified practitioners employ a complete suite of treatments, from hydrotherapy and soft tissue therapies to Dr. Vodder's manual lymph drainage (MLD) and biochemical elements. Their mix of compassion and technical expertise turns any spa visit into an unforgettable experience.

We understand that stress is one of the primary causes of a number of common disorders, including anxiety, fatigue, digestive issues, premature aging and weight fluctuation. Accordingly, Fairmont Spa and Wellness specializes in noninvasive, holistic treatments that naturally interrupt negative stress patterns while restoring balance and homeostasis.

These subtle, all-natural massages, wraps and facials consistently create calm and serenity for mind, body and spirit, imparting a sense of deep relaxation before returning to the world outside.
